

CAST SOLID VOTE IN ALL MATTERS

Petersburg Delegation Decides on
This Course and Elects Major
Lassiter Chairman.

Times-Dispatch Bureau.
40 Sycamore Street,
Petersburg, Va., June 9.

The Petersburg delegates to the Democratic State convention at Roanoke, at a meeting to-night with P. H. Drewry presiding, and Major A. H. Moody, secretary, unanimously adopted a motion by Congressman P. H. Lassiter, delegate at large, that the delegation cast the solid vote of all the eleven delegates on all questions before the meeting of the Fourth Congressional District Committee. On motion of Dr. J. M. Burke, Major Lassiter was elected a chairman of the delegation.

At the recent city convention when the delegates were elected, they were instructed to vote for an unopposed delegation to the Denver convention, and a resolution was passed expressing the sense of the convention in favor of abolishing the primary system and returning to the plan of nominating candidates for Congress and the governorship at convention.

Fail to Get Injunction.

Those residents of High Street who have long been making a hard fight to prevent the erection of telephone poles and the stringing of cables and wires along that thoroughfare by the Petersburg Telephone Company, have failed to secure the much desired injunction from Judge J. M. Mullen, of the Hustings Court. Judge Mullen has rendered his opinion in the case of F. G. Scott against the telephone company, in which the plaintiff seeks an injunction restraining the company from placing the poles and wires in front of his High Street property, declaring that such action would be an unwarranted invasion of his rights of property, for which no action at law could compensate him.

After reviewing at length all features of the case, the opinion of the court states that if residents of other sections of the city, which are as attractive localities as High Street, are satisfied with the telephone service which is offered to High Street residents, the latter should be content therewith, of make the same for themselves. The motion for injunction is therefore denied.

Cary Beckwith, of Charleston, S. C.

KILLS NEGRO WHO
THREATENS HIM

Amherst Man, Who Shoots Under
Strong Provocation, Justified by Coroner's Jury.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
LYNCHBURG, Va., June 9.—Believing that his life was at stake, Mr. Oscar Baldock, a well-to-do and highly respected miller, merchant and farmer, who lives about five miles northeast of Lynchburg, in Amherst county, yesterday shot and killed a negro named George Jenkins. Immediately after the shooting, Mr. Baldock came to Madison Heights to surrender, but found no one there who could take charge of him, and he returned to his home. Last night he gave himself up to "Squire Dawson."

This morning, Justice of the Peace H. C. Dawson, acting coroner, empaneled a jury of inquest, which, after hearing the evidence, returned a verdict that the negro came to his death by being shot by Oscar Baldock, but the verdict holds that the shooting was justifiable. The coroner commends the accused for his forbearance.

Mr. Baldock and the negro had had some misunderstanding over work the negro was doing for the white man, and the negro became impatient. Mr. Baldock ordered him to leave his premises, and the negro complied with the request, vowing vengeance upon Mr. Baldock and his family. Last Saturday several colored men reported to Mr. Baldock that Jenkins was endeavoring to organize a mob of blacks and march on to his home, murder his family and burn his property. In addition to this Jenkins sent Mr. Baldock word several times that he intended to kill him on sight. Saturday Baldock went to Madison Heights and against the negro in the hope of preventing trouble. No one seemed to be in a hurry about executing the warrants, and Mr. Baldock armed himself with a revolver and a shotgun, and was ready to protect himself should he meet the negro before he could be placed under arrest. Yesterday morning Mr. Baldock was shot at by the negro towards him in the woods near Mr. Baldock's lumber camp and shot him.
